- as a result of one or more of these events.
- (2) If the registered person has accounted for an incorrect amount of tax payable or refund due, –
- (a) the registered person will make an adjustment in calculating the tax payable or refund due by the registered person in the return for the taxable period during which it has become apparent that a correction is needed; and
  - (b) if the tax properly payable by the registered person in respect of the supply exceeds the tax accounted for, the excess is to be treated as tax payable in relation to a taxable supply in the later taxable period and not in the original taxable period; and
  - (c) if the tax properly payable by the registered person in respect of the supply is less than the tax accounted for, the registered person will make a deduction of the difference under section 19(4) in respect of the later taxable period.
- (3) If a tax invoice to which subsection (1)(e) refers has been provided and –
- (a) the amount shown as tax payable on the invoice exceeds the correct amount of tax payable, the registered person must provide the recipient with a credit note;

  - (c) is not required to provide a recipient with a credit note if and to the extent that the excess results from a prompt payment discount which is clearly described on the face of the tax invoice.
- (5) If a recipient of a supply who is a registered person has created a document which complies with the requirements of this section in respect of a credit note or debit note in respect of that supply which could have been issued by the supplier, the document will be treated as if issued by the supplier under this section if –
- (a) the Director has granted prior approval to the issue of such a document by such a recipient; and

- (b) the supplier and the recipient have agreed that the supplier will not issue such a credit note or debit note; and
  - (c) the supplier does not in fact issue such a credit note or debit note; and
  - (d) the supplier is provided with a copy of the credit note or debit note.
- (6) A registered person is not required to issue a credit note or debit note if the Director determines that sufficient records will exist to establish the particulars of the supply and it would be impractical to require issue of a credit note or debit note.
- (7) If a recipient, being a registered person, –
- (a) has been issued with a credit note under this section or otherwise knows that a tax invoice held by the recipient is incorrect as a result of one of the events listed in subsection (1); and
  - (b) has made a deduction under section 19(4) in respect of tax payable on the relevant supply,
- an amount equal to any excess of the tax for which a deduction has been made over the tax actually payable is to be treated as tax payable by the recipient in respect of a taxable supply made by the recipient in the taxable period in which the credit note or the knowledge is received.
- (8) If a recipient, being a registered person, –
- (a) has been issued with a debit note under this section; and
  - (b) has made a deduction under section 19(4) in respect of the tax payable on the relevant supply,

  - (d) has written off as a bad debt the whole or part of the consideration in money not paid to the registered person; and
  - (e) has provided to the Director in an approved form such information as will satisfy the Director that the debt has been properly written off,
- the registered person will make a deduction under section 19(4) for that proportion of the tax payable in respect of the supply which the bad debt represents as a proportion of the total consideration for the supply.
- (2) If an amount in respect of which a deduction has been made under subsection (1) is subsequently wholly or partly recovered, the portion of the deduction which is equal to the portion which the recovered amount is of the bad debt is to be treated as tax payable in respect of a taxable supply by the registered person during the taxable period in which the recovery takes place.

the company will be deemed to be the recipient of the goods and services as if the supply or importation in question had been made during the taxable period in which the reimbursement referred to in this section is made.

(2) This section will not apply in relation to any goods and services where –

- (a) the supply of the goods and services by the person to the company is itself a taxable supply or is a supply of second-hand goods not being a taxable supply; or

PART 12 – (Repealed)

Sections 61 to 68

PART 13 – TRANSITIONAL PROVISIONS AND REPEALS

69. Effect on supply price of 1998 introduction of tax

(1) If –

- (a) a supply of goods or services has become subject to value added tax as a result of this Act; and
- (b) the parties to the supply have not expressly agreed that this subsection will not apply; and
- (c) the agreement between the parties for the making of the supply is entered into before 31 July 1998, the registered person making the supply may increase the agreed price for the supply, and may recover the increase from the acquirer of the goods or services, by the amount of tax payable in respect of the supply, to the extent to which that tax exceeds the aggregate of the following sums:

- (d) the business licence fee related to the turnover (if any) which would have been payable in respect of the supply but for the repeal of the Business Licence Act [Cap. 173] made by the Business Licence Act [Cap. 249];
- (e) the hotel and licensed premises tax (if any) that would have been payable in respect of the supply but for the repeal of the Hotel and Licensed Premises Act [Cap. 141] under this Act;

- (h) tax that would have been payable by the registered person under the Rent Taxation Act [Cap. 196] but for amendments to that Act that apply in respect of rent payable after 1 August 1998.

(2) If –

- (b) the supply to which the fee, charge or other amount relates becomes subject to value added tax as a result of this Act; and
- (c) it is not expressly provided that the fee, charge or other amount is inclusive of value added tax; and
- (d) the fee, charge or other amount was determined before 1 August 1998, the fee, charge or other amount will be treated as if increased by the amount of the tax payable in respect of the supply, to the extent to which that tax exceeds the aggregate of the sums referred to in paragraphs (d) to (h) of subsection (1) with those paragraphs applied as if the supply referred to in subsection (1) were the supply covered by this subsection.

70. Deductions for customs duty

(1) For the purposes of this section –

"capital asset" means any goods forming part of the capital assets of a taxable activity:

"trading stock" does not include:

- (a) any capital asset; or
- (b) any goods held on hire or for hire; or
- (c) any second-hand goods, unless goods in respect of which that registered person has paid customs duty and which have been supplied and subsequently reacquired by that person; or
- (d) beer, cigarettes, manufactured tobacco or spirits; or
- (e) any goods being consumables and spare parts of the taxable activity; or
- (f) any goods entered free of duty under the Import Duties (Consolidation) Act [Cap. 91].

(2) Notwithstanding anything in section 19(4), in calculating the amount of tax payable by a registered person, the person may deduct an amount equal to the customs duty credit calculated in accordance with subsections (3) to (7):

- (a) in two equal instalments, each of one half of the customs duty credit, over two taxable periods the latter of which ends on 31 December 1998, if the taxpayer is in Category B under section 15(1); or
- (b) in twelve equal instalments, each of one twelfth of the customs duty credit, over twelve taxable periods the last of which ends on 31 July 1999 if the taxpayer is in Category A under section 15(1) and holds, on 1 August 1998, a bonded warehouse licence for the operation of a duty free shop under the Customs Act [Cap. 3*]; or
- (c) in five equal instalments, each of one fifth of the customs duty credit, over five taxable periods the last of which ends on 31 December 1998, otherwise.

(3) An amount of customs duty creditable to be deducted under this section arises only in respect of goods –

- (a) held by the registered person at the close of 30 June 1998; and
- (b) which are trading stock of a taxable activity carried on by the registered person; and
- (c) in respect of which the Director is satisfied that customs duty was paid on their importation or entry for home consumption.

(4) The amount of customs duty credit may, at the election of the person but subject to subsection (5), be calculated under any one of the following paragraphs:

- (a) an amount (not less than zero) calculated by deducting from the customs duty paid by the registered person in respect of the goods the amount of customs duty that would have been correctly payable by the person if those goods had been imported or entered for home consumption on or after 1 July 1998;
- (b) an amount equal to 5 percent of the cost of the goods; or

* Editor's note: Cap. 3 has been superseded by the Customs Act, Cap. 257.

- (c) for taxpayers entitled to be placed in Category B under section 15, an amount equal to 5 percent of the total proceeds of sales of trading stock by the person in the three months ending on 30 June 1998.
- (5) The Minister may, by order, require that the customs duty credit in respect of certain items of trading stock be calculated in accordance with subsection (4)(a).
- (6) A registered person entitled to a deduction against value added tax under this section will disclose to the Director with the person's return for each taxable period in which a claim for a deduction is made –
  - (a) the total amount of the deduction to which the person is entitled;
  - (b) the total amount, if any, claimed as a deduction in previous returns; and
  - (c) the amount claimed as a deduction in the current return.
- (7) A registered person will not be entitled to a deduction under this section unless the claim for the deduction is supported by adequate stock, purchase and sales records kept by the person, including stock sheets, information on the cost of goods purchased, records of sales and purchases and of customs duty payments.

71. Regard to customs duty credit and duty reductions in prices

- (1) For the purposes of this section, "customs duty credit" means any amount that a registered person is or, but for this section, would be allowed to deduct under section 70.
- (2) In determining the price of a supply of goods or services, a registered person will have regard to the amount of customs duty credit the registered person is entitled to deduct under section 70 in respect of the supply and the amount, if any, by which customs duty payable on goods in respect of that supply is lower than the customs duty that would have been payable if those goods had been imported and cleared through Customs before 1 July 1998.
- (3) If a registered person does not have adequate regard to the amount of customs duty credit and reduction in customs duty in respect of a supply under subsection (1), the Director may, notwithstanding section 70:
  - (a) deny a deduction for any customs duty credit in respect of the goods supplied; and
  - (b) impose additional tax of up to 5% of the taxable supply in respect of the taxable period in which the supply is made, which tax will be payable in all respects as if were additional tax imposed under section 31.
- (4) This section will apply in respect of taxable supplies made in any taxable period that tends on or before 30 November 1998.

72. Registration of persons liable to be registered on 1 August 1998

Notwithstanding anything in section 12 (which relates to registration of persons making taxable supplies), every person who, on or before 30 June 1998, knows, or could with reasonable diligence have known, that he or she will be liable to be registered from 1 August 1998 under section 12, will apply in the approved form for registration before 30 June 1998, and the Director will register that person under section 12.

73. Supplies prior to 1 August 1998

- (1) For the purposes of this section, the expression "time of performance" means –
  - (a) in relation to a supply of goods, –

- (i) if the goods are to be removed and the property in those goods will pass from the supplier to the recipient, the earlier of the time of the removal and the time that that property passes;
    - (ii) if the goods are to be removed but property in the goods will not pass from the supplier to the recipient, the time of the removal;
    - (iii) if the goods are not to be removed, the time they are made available to the recipient;
    - (iv) if the goods (being sent or taken on approval, sale or return or similar terms) are removed before it is known whether a supply will take place, the time when it becomes certain that the supply has taken place; and
  - (b) in relation to a supply of services, the time when the services are performed.
- (2) If a registered person supplies services under an agreement or enactment and the agreement or enactment expressly or impliedly provides that, for and in respect of any period –
- (a) a right is to be granted or exercisable or anything is to be done or omitted to be done; or
  - (b) a payment is due, or may be made; or
  - (c) the agreement is enforceable or will have effect,
- those services will for the purposes of subsection (1)(b) be treated as if performed by the registered person continuously and uniformly during the whole of that period.
- (3) If services are supplied under an agreement or enactment which provides that any right is to be granted or exercisable by an individual for a period which will end with the termination of the life of the individual and there is a single non-refundable payment as consideration, the services will, for the purposes of subsection (1)(b), be deemed to have been performed at the earlier of the time the right is granted by the supplier or at the time that it first becomes exercisable.
- (4) Notwithstanding anything in this Act, for the purposes of subsection (1), goods supplied under an agreement to hire will be deemed to be a supply of services.
- (5) Notwithstanding anything in section 5, if and to the extent that the time of performance of any supply of goods and services –
- (a) is before 1 August 1998 and that supply would, but for this section, be deemed by section 5 of this Act to take place on or after 1 August 1998, and the value of the supply is ascertainable, the time of performance will, for the purposes of this Act, be treated as being the time when the supply of the goods and services takes place;
  - (b) is on or after 1 August 1998, and that supply would, but for this section, be deemed by section 5 of this Act to take place before 1 August 1998 –
    - (i) the time of performance will, for the purposes of the imposition of value added tax under section 10 of this Act, be treated as being the time when the supply of the goods and services takes place; and
    - (ii) for the purposes of section 5 of this Act, the time when the supply of those goods and services is made will be treated as being 1 August 1998 and
    - (iii) for the purposes of section 19(3)(a)(ii) and 19(4)(a)(ii) (which relate to the payments basis for tax accounting), a payment made or received in respect of the supply before 1 August 1998 is deemed to be made or (as the case may be) received on 1 August 1998.

- (6) Subsection (5) does not apply if and to the extent that –
- (a) a supply of goods is the construction or alteration of a building or civil engineering work; and
  - (b) the goods are sold under a written contract entered into before 1 August 1998; and
  - (c) the goods are made available to the recipient after 1 August 1998, meaning that but for this subsection, the whole supply would be deemed to be subject to value added tax under subsection (5),
- and instead the value of all work and materials permanently incorporated into the building or work under the contract must be determined as at the close of 31 July 1998 and subsections (8) and (9) will apply.
- (7) The valuation required under subsection (6) must be undertaken by a competent independent valuer in a manner acceptable to the Director unless –
- (a) the Director approves otherwise; or
  - (b) the supply of the building or work is to a registered person exclusively for the purposes of the registered person making taxable supplies.
- (8) If the value calculated under subsection (6) exceeds the total of the consideration in money invoiced by, received by or due to the supplier in respect of the building or work before 1 August 1998, the consideration in money for the first supply in respect of the building or work which is deemed to occur on or after 1 August 1998 under section 5(6) is reduced by the excess and, if the excess is greater than that consideration in money, the surplus will be carried forward to reduce the consideration in money for the next subsequent such supply, and so on.
- (9) If the value calculated under subsection (6) is less than the total of the consideration in money invoiced by, received by or due to the supplier before 1 August 1998, the difference is deemed to be consideration in money for a taxable supply made by the supplier on 1 August 1998 and charged with value added tax under section 10(2)(a).

74. Repeals of and consequential amendments to other Acts

- (1) The enactments specified in Schedule 4 are hereby repealed and amended as stated in that Schedule.
- (2) Without limiting the application of the Interpretation Act [Cap. 132], the repeal of any provision by this Act will not (except as otherwise provided in this Act) affect any document made or anything whatsoever done under the provision so repealed or under any corresponding former provision and every such document or thing, so far as it is subsisting or in force at the time of the repeal and could have been made or done under this Act, will continue and have effect as if it had been made or done under the corresponding provision of this Act and as if that provision had been in force when the document was made or the thing was done.
- (3) For all purposes relating to assessment or recovery of any tax, fee or duty payable under a provision repealed by this Act in respect of a supply or importation before 1 August 1998, the provisions repealed by this Act are deemed to remain in force.
